

Household Hazardous Waste Cleanup Day

There will be a Hazardous Waste Cleanup Day for residents of Marshall, Tyler and Wetzel Counties in West Virginia. Residents of Monroe County in Ohio are also invited to participate in this event.

Date: Saturday, April 26, 2025

Time: 9 am to noon

Location: Covestro East Parking Lot on WV State Rt. 2

For more information, call Shayne Gargala: (304) 451-3570

Residents of Marshall, Tyler and Wetzel counties in West Virginia and Ohio's Monroe County are invited to bring their household hazardous waste to an area cleanup set for April 26 in New Martinsville, West Virginia.

The Westlake / Covestro / Williams Community Advisory Panel (CAP) is sponsoring the event, which is supported by Marshall County and other local solid waste authorities and districts of the participating counties. Signs will identify the entrance to the collection site.

To prepare for the collection, participants must follow these guidelines:

1. Latex and oil-based paints (including lead containing paints), used motor oil, antifreeze, transmission fluid, aerosol cans, automobile batteries, tires and pesticides can be accepted.
2. Only items from households (no schools, churches, organizations or commercial locations) can be accepted.
3. Items should be left in their original containers and should not be mixed.
4. If an item (such as used motor oil) must be delivered in a container other than the original, it should be clearly and accurately labeled. No containers will be returned.
5. Large volumes (such as truckloads or 55-gallon drums) will not be accepted.
6. Drivers should enter at the southeast entrance to the Covestro parking lot on Route 2. The entrance will be marked.
7. Drivers and all occupants should stay in their cars and proceed as directed.
8. No electronic wastes and no gas cylinders will be accepted.
9. Drivers will need to sign a certification form stating that waste they are delivering is household. Forms will be available at the site.
10. Only four tires per car will be accepted and no rims will be accepted.
